

Building and Construction

BAMA SERVICES

Bama Services is a civil engineering, construction and industrial services business that provides industry-based employment for Indigenous people from across Queensland.

We have a strong customer base comprising both private and public sector clients, and a proven track record in executing challenging projects - challenging by virtue of complexity and remoteness. Bama is 100 per cent Indigenous owned, with a 76 percent Indigenous workforce. We are pre-qualified to a PQC 2 level with the Federal Government and have been pre-qualified to tender on projects in the high-risk industry of mining.

Building and Construction

Bama Services has a demonstrated ability to deliver turnkey EPC projects or any part thereof, including design and construct and construct-only solutions. Through internal and joint venture partnerships we offer extensive, local Indigenous resources to deliver measurable outcomes in the resources, logistics, mining, food processing, defence and infrastructure sectors.

Our extensive construction experience includes working with key clients on a non-preferential basis and as an integrated project team. This approach allows Bama to ensure independence and the ability to provide the best asset value and performance for the end-user.

Services include:

- Construct Only
- Design and Construct
- New Domestic Builds
- New Commercial Builds

We have the capacity to provide targeted resources, with the appropriate skills, experience and qualifications (under industry-recognised supervision) to tackle a range of projects anywhere in Australia.

Bama Services is a safe, competent, Indigenous owned and operated, scalable and competitive business that can tailor a solution to your construction project needs. When choosing to work with Bama Services we assure you that you are partnering with a low-risk business. This is achieved by providing support and wellbeing services to all its employees through a program that is designed to ensure that each and every employee is fully functional. Through this holistically supportive environment we can guarantee that all measurable project targets are met on time and on budget.
